FLAGS FOR THE SCHOOLS.

PUBLIC PRESENTATION BY THE GRAND ARMY VETERANS.

Pupils of the Emma Street High School are the first to raise the Stars and Stripes in Hawaii.

The first public presentation of "Old Glory" to any of the schools of the new Territory of Hawaii took place at the High School on Emma street yesterday morning in the presence of over 2,000 pupils and visitors.

The flags, 245 in all, one-half of them silk, were presented by Lafayette Post, No. 146, G. A. R., of the Department of New York, through G. W. De Long Post of this city. The High School was beautifully and tastefully decorated, the flag of Hawaii blending with the bunting and with the Stars and Stripes, while on a banner in the front of the building was inscribed:

"Westward the course of empire takes its way.

Time's noblest offspring is the last."
On one corner of the raised platform, the flags, one for each school in the islands, repose on a table pending the presentation ceremony.

The exercises were opened by the singing of "America" by children of the High School, accompanied by the Government Band, after which W. L.
Eaton, post commander of G. W. De Long Post, read the following address from the Lafayette Post of New York, the donors of the flags:

To the Teachers, Scholars and the People of Hawaii:

More than thirty years ago there was a great and terrible war existing in the United States of America between two sections of the Nation. One section striving to divide the country and to establish a new government, and a strange flag—the other to prevent the dismemberment of the United States and to sustain the sovereignty and superiority of the flag which had been the standard of the republic since the Revolution a hundred years before.

The triumph of the army for the maintenance of the union and for the retention of the "Old Flag" is familiar to you all, and the providence of an all-wise God has been manifested in a glorious progress that has followed the victory guided by His omnipotent direction.

A product of this great war was the Grand Army of the Republic—an organization born on the field of strife, which has multiplied into a membership of 300,000 soldiers who served in the victorious army.

One of the principles of this noble order is the inculcation of patriotism —a purpose to carry forward through all time a love of country and devotion to its welfare.

This Grand Army of the Republic is a national organization, represented by as many departments as there are States in the union, and in each State there are the representatives in smaller bodies called posts. Lafayette Post is one of these, with a membership of 600, whose chief aim, besides its fraternity and charity, is to instill patriotism in the minds of the growing children—native and foreign born—who will be the future citizens and rulers of the land. For fourteen years the post has found it to be a pleasant duty to labor for a love of the flag which, through its agency and example, now floats above every school house throughout the broad domain.

When the cruel yoke of Spain was removed from the oppressed people of Porto Rico and that beautiful island hailed with delight the approach of the flag of freedom, this post remembered the children who would be blessed under the banner of liberty and sent 800 flags to be an emblem of their release from the bondage of inhumanity and servitude.

Later, when the American soldiers and sailors broke the chains of the latter the liberty of the Philippines, the post, again, inspired by the welcome and thanksgiving of the Porto Ricans, forwarded 600 of the same flags to Manila, where they now float over the school houses of those islands of the Orient.

And now, learning of the little brotherhood of American union veterans, the George W. De Long Post of your own "Gem of the Pacific," who, through privation and sacrifice, were laboring for an accomplishment beyond their strength, strong as they are in faith and hope and charity, Lafayette Post finds it one of its greatest privileges to be permitted to assist in the glorious achievement of planting the flag that stands for the uplifting of the human race wherever the wisdom of God has placed them.

With you there is much less to teach —you are a favored people. The Gospel of Christ was carried to you from our shores and you have learned the Golden Rule and know little of the oppression of man. But with the Bible goes the flag.

The inspiration of truth is sustained by the flag that is raised for the elevation of man. To love God and keep the law is to obey the commandments of a divine government and a righteous people.

As the sun rises here in the East to brighten the lives of all, so we raise the flag to impress the people with the benevolence of man, guided by the beneficence of the Creator.

It is a bright thought with us that it has been our privilege to plant our beautiful standard of strength and right at home and abroad. The flag is never folded; but as we sleep in peace, confident of the protection it has brought, it is flying before the gentle zephyrs of fullest day over our kindred of other climes.

In our dreams we shall have sweet visions of floating colors over Punct-bowl to welcome the storm-tossed mariner into your tranquil coral-bound harbor of Honolulu. That as we remember your exquisite Nuuanu valley and ride to the Fall we shall see floating gracefully as sunbeams on the morning clouds the brilliant Stars and Stripes, for which we offered our lives.
We shall think of it at stations on the way to Haleakala and on the snow-crowned hills of Mokuaweoweo. At Hilo, at Ulupalakua, at Waikiki, where-ever the children are, there shall the benison be lifted to proclaim the fulfillment of the prophecy of the image of the Crosser, God.

We commend to you not only the flying flag, but the teaching and learning of all that it represents. Learn of the good men who have died for it; and pray for the few of declining years who yet remain, who have fought for it.
Teach and learn the national hymns, cherish the flag, and the nation shall prosper.

the year which commemorates the brightest pages of American history when liberty was born, freedom restored and inhumanity overthrown.

Under the Government of this flag all children are of royal birth. All men may become rulers of the nation and women have an equal heritage and place of honor.

We send to you, through our comrades of the loyal army, the members of the George W. De Long Post, the contribution to their unselfish devotion to the land they helped to save from destruction; though absent, they are forgotten not.

We send it with our love and heartfelt greeting, trusting with the confidence of patriots who never faltered before the cannon's mouth that what ever else befalls, no power may wrest from you the homes and happiness protected by the flag that has cost so much to create and for which men have suffered so much to preserve.

ALLAN BAKERWELL,
Commander.

WILSON F. BROWN, Adjutant.

R. J. Greene, on behalf of the local G. A. R. post, presented the flags to the schools of Hawaii through E. A. Mott-Smith, Minister of Public Instruction.
Mr. Greene explained the significance of the flag and what it stood for, addressing the pupils of all the schools to love and respect and cherish it as the sacred emblem of their country.

Mr. Mott-Smith made a brief address of thanks for the generous gifts for the schools and promising on behalf of the pupils that they would ever be ready to defend the flag as were the donors in the dark days of civil strife forty years ago.

"Our Flag" was sung by the pupils of the High School, accompanied by the band, followed by a reading of Tennyson's "Launching of the Ship" by Miss E. Cartwright. The flag drill, arranged by Miss Cartwright, was given by 22 young women of the High School, bringing forth generous rounds of applause for the manner in which the drill was executed.

President S. B. Dole then addressed the children, saying in part: "You know that ladies are very fond of jewelry, prizing above everything their engagement and marriage rings. They will never part with these. They are the symbols, to them of what pleasures and sorrows are in their past. A nation's flag is the same to it. It calls up the pleasant and the sorrowful memories of the nation to the people. It is upon their public dwellings and government buildings; it is carried in processions and by the navy around the world. Our Hawaiian flag will always be dear to us for the memories that it cherishes."

Mr. Dole then took an American flag from the pile on the table and holding it aloft, said: "The number of stripes on the American flag is thirteen, representing the original colonies. The field of stars was originally thirteen, but since then it has grown to a perfect galaxy. I know that you are all tired, so I will say no more."

After the President's address came the ceremony of raising the flag presented to the High School to the top of the pole on the school building. The members of G. W. De Long Post came from their seats on the veranda above to the platform and stood in a row with their hands uncovered. The following young ladies held the lanyard and drew the flag up, while the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner," everybody singing: The Misses Daisy Smith, Alice Johnston, Evelyn Scholten, Esther Johnston, Agnes Carroll, Ella Zeigler, Clare Gertz and Anna Tucker.

COMMERCE OF GERMANY.

Imports the Past Year Far in Excess of Exports.

Germany's commerce with the world in all commodities, except the precious metals, amounted last year to $2,156,- 744,000, according to a report to the State Department from Acting Consul Monaghan at Chemnitz. Her imports the same year amounted to $1,228,838,- 000; exports, $949,858,000. The most pronounced decrease in imports in the last few years has been in wheat and rye on account of the gain in home production. Some lines of trade have suffered and some have prospered. Exports have fallen from $54,502,000 in 1897 to $45,635,000 in 1899. This decrease is said to be due to the lessened demand from the United States.

SUGAR-MAKING IN VERMONT.

C. W. Fitzsimmons of Underhill brought 15 gallons of new maple syrup into town recently, which represented the product made from 1200 trees during the last week. He got 90 cents a gallon for it. Mr. Fitzsimmons owns one of the largest sugar bushes in the State. He says that the flow of sap so far has been light. He further stated that many owners of maple orchards in Underhill and other parts of the State were cutting them all down for lumber, because lumber brought a lot of ready cash, and for the reason that many farmers have become discouraged about the ravages of the forest worm, which is killing the sugar maple. Others are tapping but a small percentage of their trees. Indications point to a small supply of maple sweets this year, even if weather conditions prove favorable. — Burlington (Vt.) News.

IN HILO TOWN.

Stranger—Hi! what in the dickens is that man kicking that bag of sugar for?
Hiloite—Well, yer see, they didn't put any thing in the Territorial bill he could kick about, 'and so he's just keepin' in practice.
Stranger—In practice! What fer?
Hiloite—What fer? Say, stranger, do you think we're going to live here till the next Legislature meets waitin' for something to kick at? No-sir-ee!
We intend to keep up our reputation, 'and I'll bet yer our harbor against yer little wash basin in Honolulu that we raise a good, old-fashioned kick of some kind, or bust.
